

24TH SUNNY PICNIC HELD BY LUTHERANS

Annual Record Remains Intact for Emmanuel Congregation

1200 ATTEND FESTIVITIES AT SUNNYBROOK PARK

Twenty-four years without a rained out picnic is a record that the Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, is very proud about, but he isn't going to let anyone in on the secret of how it's brought about.

A record number of 1200 Emmanuel congregation and Sunday school members yesterday attended the church's 24th annual picnic at Sunnybrook and enjoyed a rainless and breeze-filled day.

Dr. Krouse, chairman of the picnic's "weather committee," cast a thankful eye heavenward, as he proclaimed that once again the church group had done the seemingly impossible.

"It was a grand and glorious day and we had one of the largest crowds we've ever had," he beamed. "But I won't let anyone in on the secret of how we've managed to avoid rain."

"LAST YEAR the annual picnic was plagued by a single 'slight drizzle,'" the pastor said, but not enough rain to postpone the affair.

The church has been holding its annual outings on the third Wednesday of July ever since Dr. Krouse has been pastor.

The only part of yesterday's picnic that was wet was the lemonade in thermos jugs under the large picnic pavilion and the blue-tinted water of Sunnybrook pool.

Unreasonable haste is the direct road to error.—Moliere.

Officials Need Support

A hearty respect for the law, so lacking in Pottstown because of the dilatory attitude of enforcement heads, may result from the "new look" in the borough manager's office.

This "new look" was firmness in enforcement of the anti-weed law. For three years Pottstown had been fooling around with weed-cutting notices and threats of prosecution. Nobody paid much attention to either.

Then this year Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden became serious. He gave the usual weed-cutting notices, investigated the complaints himself, and then cracked down on persons who ignored the law.

He wasn't trying "wolf" this year. Two violators were fined.

He is to be commended for using the mailed fist, for he will relieve himself and others of many complaints and ear-heatings by showing scofflaws that he means what the laws say!

This laughing at the law is an insidious Pottstown practice that goes back to horse and buggy days. Pottstown has outgrown its village customs. Unfortunately, some borough hall officials have not grown with the community.

Paul P. Kohler, Second ward councilman, has been outspoken many times about council's passing laws and then the borough getting no enforcement. This progressive councilman, who has championed some excellent reforms in his councilmanic days, as late as early this week pointed to this local failing.

"I don't think we create any respect for the law," he said, "when we . . . permit property owners to evade orders for three or four years."

Mr. Kohler, who has deplored this "do nothing" attitude for many years, got quick support from Wilbert F. O'Dell Jr., Eighth ward councilman.

"I agree with you," he asserted. "That's what I've been trying to prove for years."

That type of support from councilmen should hearten Borough Manager Gulden. His lot isn't an easy one. He is blamed for everything, given credit for nothing.

Yet he is sincere in the performance of his duties. His position needs unqualified support from councilmen.

In addition, they should be willing to assume some of the responsibility of their offices.

It would be fine, if only once, some councilmen were to stand up to his constituents to declare: "That man is doing only what he's told to do. That's his job! We are his bosses. If you have any criticism, level it at me. I am your representative in council, and I'm the one responsible to the voters."

Such support might hearten other weak-kneed borough employees. Pottstown often has proved it wants enforcement of the law—but only IMPARTIAL enforcement; not a wink for the big shots and a frown for the residents of the other side of the tracks.

A Community Service

SEVEN women's organizations of Pottstown received recognition in recent weeks for the outstanding work they performed in our community. The years they spent helping make Pottstown a better town in which to live—have been rewarded by Food Fair Stores, Inc., which gave each of the groups a framed citation recognizing the dedicated service of each to the community.

The seven organizations were ones with which we are all familiar: the Century Club, the Pottstown Hospital auxiliary, the Memorial Hospital auxiliary, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the Woman's Club, the Salvation Army Ladies auxiliary, and the Soroptimist Club.

There can be no doubt that these organizations deserve to be cited. The contributions they made toward Pottstown's progress and betterment certainly justify it.

Food Fair also did us a service by focusing public attention on these organizations.

But why should Food Fair, a newcomer to our town, assume the job of citing these organizations? Why should a company whose business is selling food be concerned with Pottstown service clubs?

The answer lies in the fact that Food Fair, along with many progressive commercial and industrial firms throughout the country, has recognized that its responsibility to the communities it serves goes beyond the selling of food or manufacturing a product. Food Fair activities are based on the belief that a supermarket must be an active member of a community and must participate in the life of the community as fully as possible.

PUNKIN CORNERS, July 20.

Editor, The Mercury,

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where Pottstown isn't the only place suffering from the heat. In Europe, blistering heat, a drought and forest fires are making the local tourists homesick!

According to fashion item, a sober note will be emphasized in men's clothing this season. Does this mean the passing of the old college beer suit?

And say: An 86-year-old Italian man has just been graduated from grammar school. Over there that Eighth Grade must be a real toughie!

READERS SAY:

Men With Energy Could Build Park Swim Pool

A Project for Everyone

To the Editor: Isn't it about time something is done on a swimming pool for Pottstown?

I know this question has been asked before. Maybe that indicates that a lot of people want some action.

Now what I have in mind is this:

The clubs like the Kiwanis, Rotary, etc. could get together and, with labor furnished by themselves, they could build such a pool in Memorial park.

Many of these men are handymen. I'm sure. And if there were enough of these volunteers, the job could be done in no time and without any strain on any one person.

There are businessmen, too, who would donate the use of their trucks. Others might provide the materials at cost.

What a community project this could be!

Sure, we want baseball diamonds in the park, but the development of the park shouldn't stop there. A swimming pool certainly would be better and would benefit so many more than the plaque on the stone wall.

Our country was made great by the pioneers who cut trails through the wilderness with their own hands. They did it with foresight and hope in the future of this great land.

Pottstown must have some of this pioneer blood, too, if only it could be organized and put into efforts for the community's good.

WASHINGTON
Memphis' Move to Save
City $1,500,000

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, July 21—A generally unknown factor behind the decision of the City of Memphis officials to sever their association with the Tennessee Valley authority and to build their own utility system is that the Mississippi river port and cotton center will save $1,500,000 annually in the process. And it was the Dixon-Yates proposal which made possible this severance and saving.

Like every other municipal and co-operative customer of TVA, Memphis rates for use and distribution of Federally generated power are fixed by the TVA board. Under the original contract, however, Memphis was allowed to impose a 15 percent surcharge on the more important customers. The annual revenue amounted to $1,500,000.

Many other cities and electric cooperatives in TVA territory collect a 10 percent surcharge, which pays their local expenses in handling TVA power.

In view of the fact that TVA is subsidized by Uncle Sam, and pays no taxes, the rate to consumers was not increased too heavily by addition of the surcharge.

SURCHARGE ELIMINATION ORDERED: TVA authorities recently ordered Memphis to eliminate the surcharge, which would mean a serious loss of revenue to a rapidly expanding city of 400,000.

In the midst of this controversy, came the Administration proposal that Dixon-Yates interests supply Memphis with power now furnished by TVA, in lieu of energy which TVA must turn over to atomic plants.

Refusing to accept Dixon-Yates electricity, Memphis decided to build its own utility plant.

When Mayor Frank Tobey gave a firm promise to that purpose on his recent visit to the White House, President Eisenhower canceled the contract with Dixon-Yates.

GLAD TO BREAK WITH TVA: Mayor Tobey's demeanor and remarks on his visit to Washington suggest that he was only too happy to break off connections with TVA. The issue of municipal finances and taxes will figure heavily in his forthcoming re-election campaign, especially as many business interests in Memphis and West Memphis, Ark., favored the Dixon-Yates deal.

It is also probable that many other "captive cities" within the TVA empire may follow Tobey's example.

Under their contracts with TVA, the Federal agency may cancel or reduce their surcharges any time it sees fit.

Furthermore, the contract stipulates that any surplus resulting from the surcharge must be applied to a reduction or elimination of the municipal tax. Through these methods, TVA popularizes itself by keeping utility charges at a minimum.

TVA CONTROL: In other words, through its monopoly on the generation, distribution and cost of power, TVA has had partial control of the finances of every municipal and co-operative customer in its seven-state area. The purchasers have been at the mercy and whim of Federal bureaucrats appointed by a man at Washington—the President—who did not know or understand local needs.

Incidentally, Mayor Tobey's eager acceptance of the new arrangement appears to refute the Kefauver-Gore-Lehman contention that it is a "bigger scandal than Teapot Dome" (Kefauver), and that it will be a major issue in the Presidential election next year. Once again, he has rolled with the punch as well as counterpunching neatly.

It's the Way They Did It!

To the Editor: Since Montgomery county went all these years without a state permit and lifeguards at the park at Green Lane, what is the idea of closing it to swimming now while these things are being done?

The park lake was closed without warning, too, which seems a bullheaded way of doing things.

The many persons who use the park lake were disappointed by the method in which the county is going about getting lifeguards there, I am sure.

This pretty well demonstrates that the county commissioners consider themselves "all powerful" without any responsibility to answer to the taxpayers and the people who voted them into office.

Thinks Pottstown Lags

To the Editor: I think it's very fine to call attention to the traffic problem in Pottstown.

I've been away from this town for quite a few years and, for the first time, I've really noticed how really terrible my home town streets are.

What a pity that most of the other states have kept abreast of the changing traffic problems while Pottstown hasn't. It really shows up our town.

I guess it's true that you can't see the forest for the trees. If our citizens saw us as outsiders do, they'd be shamed into fighting for better highways and streets.

Pottstown has had reason to be proud. I'd like to see it stay that way.

A TRAVELING CITIZEN

Street Corner Insults

To the Editor: I want to protest most vehemently against the conduct of some of the so-called "men" who hang around the corners on High street.

It is getting so that a respectable woman can't walk along the street without being the target of insults.

A friend of mine and myself were walking past the High and Hanover street intersection on Tuesday afternoon about 2 o'clock when the state police were stopping trucks concerning overweight.

One of these nasty men, standing on the corner, made a remark at us that the police should start weighing the overweight women instead of the overweight trucks.

Now, this may have been a wisecrack, but it was a downright insult to us. We're certainly not "fat."

I can't excuse this man's remarks because he might have been drunk. Rather, he should have been hauled off to the borough jail because a drunk has no place standing on High street insulting women.

The police ought to run these low-down characters out of town.

HOLLYWOOD IS paying as much attention to the Summit Talks as Washington or Moscow. The film tycoons realize that if by some miracle the United States and Russia usher in a period of sweetness and accord, millions of dollars worth of finished pictures and scenarios—in which the villains are communists—may be not only "dated" but contrary to national policy.

Hildegarde, the rose-tossing chanteuse, is being courted by a Texan, John Ulem (Cattle, not oil). . . . One of the tykes who will join the brainy moppets on Jack Barry's new "Juvenile Jury" panel is named Einstein. Freddie, that is.

NEW YORK gendarmes are having a terrible time keeping visiting ladies from parading around the midtown sightseeing area in short short shorts. No sooner do the cops tell one barelegged belle to cover up than another ambles into view. They think it's all right because they're here on vacation. . . . What's this about Maria Riva having a new pet—a boa constrictor? The Irish may march in Morty Torme when they hear his newly waxed version of "Rose O'Day." He's given it the rhythm and blues treatment, with pretty startling effect.

Aficionados Reporting on the Newport Jazz Festival note that two conspicuous disasters marred an otherwise happy weekend of sounds. The first was a proof-reading booboo in the souvenir program, which switched the biographies of two performers who happen to be clarinetists of vastly opposite schools. Cool modernist Tony Scott was credited with such Dixieland history as the Red Nichols band, Eddie Condon's and Nick's, while veteran two-beater Pee Wee Russell came off as a Juilliard graduate and flutist with Duke Ellington.

EMPIRE'S SWAY
NEW YORK, July 20 (UPI) — Far from swaying anything like 18 feet in a storm as some people think, the tower of the towering Empire State building may move out of line less than 1½ inches, says Frank Powell, the man who manages it. And to get that inch and a half movement requires a steady wind velocity of 90 miles an hour, he adds.

VOLCANO ERUPTS
KAGOSHIMA, Japan, Wednesday, July 20 (UPI)—The Coast Guard said today an undersea volcanic explosion yesterday sent smoke mushrooming 3500 feet into the air 90 miles south of Kyushu Island southwestern Japan.

Spring-Ford Jointure Head Releases Teacher Assignments, Replacements

Teacher assignments for the secondary (junior and senior high) Providence and elementary attendance areas of Spring-Ford Joint school district include several new teachers and replacements in the list released by Dr. O. C. Kuntzleman, supervising teacher.

There was one vacancy noted in Grade 6 of Royersford elementary attendance area, where Kenneth Randall had resigned.

In the senior high school, Linda Mae Fuller has been assigned teacher of French and Spanish, replacing Wilma Ries, who resigned. The assignment of Eben S. Cleveland as driver training instructor for the joint district will bring something new to 11th grade students from Royersford and the two townships, as they did not have a driver training course. Spring City High had driver training part time, with Cleveland as the instructor. The jointure thus affords this course to students of all four districts.

In junior high, Lorraine Heffner, Pottsville, is a new teacher of home economics. Mrs. Marie Heyser, Collegeville, has been added as part time teacher of home economics in Grade 7 Limerick and Upper Providence, and Mrs. Marian Dowhower, with a masters degree from Temple university, is a guidance teacher.

IN THE Limerick elementary attendance area, Mrs. Barbara Hartman is assigned to Grade 2, replacing Eleanor Wuchter, resigned, and Ruth Henning is assigned to Grade 1 in Spring City elementary attendance area, replacing Myrtle Taschner, who recently retired after 35 years in the Spring City school district.

Another new instructor was noted in the vocal music department, where Grace Harrop, West Chester, has been named to this post for Junior high school and Spring City elementary attendance area.

Wally Cox's New Show Will Include Big Egg

LAS VEGAS, Nev., July 20.—Television's famous bird fancier, Mister Peepers — in real life comedian Wally Cox — has a king-size egg today in his on-again act at the Dunes hotel.

Both Cox and hotel officials hope he can hatch more laughs from it than he did when he opened at the Dunes last Wednesday, and was fired after only three performances.

The two-foot plastic egg is part of the new material added to Cox's act by special writers.

BIG CAR RIDE

Plymouth, the biggest car of the low-price 3, gives you the smoothest ride of the low-price 3!

If you appreciate the comfort and smooth ride of a big car, Plymouth is just the car for you! This 17-foot beauty outshines the other low-price cars on these counts, just as it does in beauty, in size, in roominess, and in visibility. With either the thrifty 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 or the high-flying Hy-Fire V-8, Plymouth conquers the road so masterfully you're apt to forget it's a low-price car.

Greater length for smoother ride: Because Plymouth is much longer and larger than other low-price cars, it gives you the smoother, steadier ride that only a big car can give.

New shock absorber mounts for more direct control: Plymouth's famous Oriflow "shocks," now longer than ever before, are mounted inside the front coil springs for direct 100% pillowng action. And new non-parallel control arms minimize body tilt and give you a more balanced ride.

Wider rear springs for greater stability: Plymouth's rear springs—angle-mounted for extra rigidity—have been widened to a full 2½ inches (wider than the rear springs of either of the "other 2" cars). This means far more twist resistance and less sidesway on curves.

New steering gear for easier handling: Plymouth's new low-friction steering gear, teamed with higher new steering ratios, gives you the easiest handling this side of Plymouth Power Steering. The wider front tread keeps the car more nearly level when turning.

WHY PAY UP TO $500 MORE FOR A CAR SMALLER THAN PLYMOUTH?

Don't be fooled by the claims of medium-price cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags, you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much, much less, and gives you more car for your money!

15 Troop 8 Scouts and Explorers
Return After Encampment at Delmont

Fifteen Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts of Troop 8, Emmanuel Lutheran church, returned to Pottstown this week after their encampment at the Delmont Scout reservation near Green Lane.

At the start of their outing at Delmont the Scouts set up tents at Brookdale campsite and the boys began their work on junior leadership courses and miscellaneous duties.

A typical camp day started 7:15 a.m. with reveille and flag-raising ceremonies. The boys participated in all the camp programs and took time out at mid-day for a period of relaxation. Their day ended at 10 p.m.

Highlighting the encampment was the Delmont Olympics, a program featuring group-unit participation in a water carnival and field events.

Friends and relatives of the boys were able to visit the camp Saturday night. A campfire program took place and merit badges and junior leadership course certificates were awarded.

BOY SCOUTS attending the camp and leadership courses for which they worked were Ronald Lambert, nature study; Rodney Grow, Indian lore; Terry Grow, activities and games; Kenneth Mayberry, handicraft skills; Larry Wambold, rifle practices; David Hunter, aquatic skills; Raymond Hatfield, hiking mastery, and Dale Rhoads, bugling techniques.

Explorer scouts and their leadership courses were David Foley, quartermaster techniques; James Lafferty, canoeing, sports and angling; Arnold Hatfield Jr., canoeing, sports and angling; Gary Axsmith, health and safety practices; Richard Missimer, activities; Gordon Istene and Barry Rose, achievement in swimming and life saving.

Rowe was elected into the Order of the Arrow, a national society of scout and explorer campers. He was elected into the brotherhood by fellow campers because of his habit of helpfulness and living up to the scout oath and law.

William Sands Jr., scoutmaster, accompanied the boys on their trip. He was assisted by Joseph Hunter.

OTHER adult leaders who helped in pre-camp arrangements were William Foley, Richard Grow, Alber Istene, Richard Missimer, BAD BREAK FOR HOSPITAL—Mrs. Louis Nee, assistant dietitian at Memorial hospital, stores up water for patients after workmen accidentally busted a water main on Queen street yesterday afternoon. The hospital and several hundred homes were without water for five hours.

Mrs. Leighton, 387 Walnut street, Royersford.

IN ORDER to see Donnie, they had to get special permission from hospital administrator Edwin H. Prescott because they are under the required 12 year age limit for visitors to the hospital.

But when Prescott heard their story, he gave in to their request without hesitation.

The story started several weeks ago and is told with love, loyalty and lemonade.

For it was love of their stricken companion that made the girls want to do something special.

THEY DECIDED that a gift of money would be just the right thing because then Donnie could buy whatever he wanted.

In order to earn that money, Donna and Joanne started a cold drink stand at Joanne's house across the street from the Royersford playground.

BUSINESS BOomed, but there were too many customers who didn't have the ready cash, and after two weeks, the operation netted them only $2.95.

The girls were disappointed, but didn't give up.

FOUR DAYS ago, they decided that the best way to build up a suitable gift was to solicit around town among people who knew of Donnie's plight.

In two short days, they had the total up to $44 in bills and coins, which they took to the bank to exchange for the silver dollars.

And so yesterday afternoon Mrs. Leighton drove the girls to Pottstown for the presentation.

WATER —

"It's silver dollars, Donnie, it's law as a 'sponger' he was speaking," they said excitedly as they approached the bed.

And Donnie thanked them with a soft word and a smile, before being wheeled back down to his room on the fourth floor.

PREScott SAID yesterday that Donnie is showing quite a bit of improvement lately.

"He's the star pupil in the new physical therapy room," he said smiling.

Donnie, who was completely paralyzed at first, now has regained a great deal of strength in his left arm and shows a bit less improvement in his right arm.

He is being treated with massage, medicine and hydro-therapy.

AND THIS weekend will be a significant time in the lives of the Kunkle family, for Donnie will be coming home for the first time since first being stricken with transverse myelitis.

It will have to be done in an ambulance, and he won't be able to leave his special bed, known as a "Stryker Frame," but Donnie will be coming home for a few days.

The special bed was a gift to the hospital of the Pottstown Elks, and allows Donnie to be turned from his stomach to his back with almost no moving about.

The trip home is being done to give the courageous lad's morale a further boost, even more meaningful than yesterday's tender demonstration of affection.

pumped 5,700,000 gallons of water.

IT TAKES 25 gallons of water to take a shower, so the borough has been pumping enough water so that every man, woman and child in Pottstown could take nine showers each per day.

During the heat waves of the past two Summers, the water department has pumped just under that amount.

Why is the North End not dry again this year then?

Well, there's always been enough water for everybody, thanks to the Schuylkill. But because of the antiquated water system, water couldn't be pushed up to the north end when everybody in the lower end of town was drawing heavily from the supply.

THE BOROUGH erected a 500,000-gallon water tank near Brookside Country club. Then more powerful pumps were installed at the Evans street station, between East and West streets, and on Beech street.

And bigger mains were laid in the North End. And, during the past few months, meters have been installed which cut down on the amount of water the North End uses.

The North End does use less water — about one-third less, Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden said.

But the rest of town is using more water. The North End has cut down because residents there are conscious that under the meter system they're paying for every ounce of water they use. No more hoses running all night.

Why are residents in the other sections of town using more water? Maybe a use-it-while-you-get-it tree attitude has taken hold. The other sections won't be metered until next year. And the year after that.

where he presented the bag to police. He still was stunned, and shaking his head in disbelief, when he reported the strange discovery to police.

Corum explained it this way: "I bought meat and pickles at the market on Monday night, and brought them home and put them in the refrigerator. The money bag must have accidentally been put in with the stuff I purchased. I just put it in the refrigerator. It wasn't touched until my wife went to the refrigerator tonight."

"I want to thank the police and everyone concerned with this case."

Corum just blinked and shrugged his shoulders. "Nothing like this ever happened to me before," he asserted. • • •

BORGRIET ADDED, "Yes, we certainly appreciate this man's honesty. It's nice to have a case like this for a change."

Corum, shaking his head and still looking rather somber, left borough hall, and McLaughlin once more thanked him for his honesty.

The store manager reported that the bag, containing red stitched letters, "Citizens National Bank and Trust Company," had been stolen around closing time on Monday.

The six-by-eight-inch bag contained a zipper on one end and a lock. • • •

WHEN THE perspiring, perplexed Corum handed the bag to Borgriet, the detective called M. C. McLaughlin, Limerick, manager of the market.

McLaughlin motored to borough hall and unlocked the bag.

The white-haired manager counted the money quickly, and then looked at Corum.

leading up to the bag's disappearance.

The bag had been placed in a plain, brown paper bag and placed on the check-out counter next to the cash register of cashier, Merrill S. McHarg, Limerick.

It is believed that McHarg might have placed the meat and pickles in with the money bag and handed it to Corum.

Since Corum is a regular customer at the store and known by store attendants, Detective Thomas A. Lawler had previously questioned him at work about another man who was seen in the store at the time the bag disappeared.

This previous knowledge of the missing bag, added to Corum's surprise, when it was found in his refrigerator.

Big-4 Conference Comes to Deadlock Over Methods of Reuniting Germany

GENEVA, July 20 (AP)—The top men of the Big Four powers came to a deadlock today on how to reunite Germany and to bring security to Europe. They tossed the whole tangled problem to their foreign ministers.

These four men were directed to see what crumbs they could salvage out of the dispute, either in the next few days or in the next few months.

The deadlock on these two problems—perhaps the toughest the summit conference will tackle—was 90 percent expected even before the conference began. But James C. Hagerty, White House press spokesman, recognized the baneful effect such a deadlock could have on public opinion, and tried to offset it. He said the action in turning over the problem to the foreign ministers should be looked upon as the first job assigned them by the conference.

That, in a sense, is what the conference was intended to do—find sources of tension where the foreign ministers could search for means of relief.

The deadlock is definite. The Russians want to set up a system of cooperative security in Europe, and only then reunite and perhaps arm Germany. The western powers want to end the division of Germany right now. They see a divided Germany as a major cause of tension in Europe.

THE RUSSIANS backed up their own point of view today by laying before the conference a new security pact based on the outline Premier Nikolai Bulganin gave Monday. He called for a freezing of present forces, an agreement to settle East-West disputes without force, then the creation of a security organization which would lead to transfer of all American and

Dog Driving Lions Crazy By Barking, Biting Tails

MIAMI, Fla., July 20 (AP)—A small dog who likes to live dangerously is giving the lions at Crandon Park zoo a hard time.

Attendants said the dog was passing the lions' cage one day when he noticed that a lion had gone to sleep with his tail hanging through the bars.

The dog rushed over, bit the lion's tail, barked furiously, then trotted away.

After that, the pup started hanging around the cage, biting the lions' tails whenever he saw one sticking out. The lions know him now. They roar whenever he approaches.

"He's driving the lions crazy," attendants said.

Dr. Sheppard Goes to Penitentiary Holding Picture of Young Son Chip

CLEVELAND, July 20 (AP)—Pale and chubby from lack of exercise, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard was led in handcuffs today from the county jail in which he spent almost a year.

Shackled to a holdup man, the 31-year-old osteopath marched through a crowd of newsmen and spectators and climbed aboard an automobile that sped him to Columbus to begin a life sentence at the Ohio penitentiary.

The trip to Columbus took four hours and he arrived at the penitentiary at 3:42 p. m. (Pottstown time).

Wearing a blue worsted suit and blue knit necktie, his six-foot frame gave the same somber appearance it did during the ten-week trial that ended last Dec. 21, when a jury found him guilty of battering to death his four-months-pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31.

YESTERDAY a court of appeals rejected his plea for a new trial on grounds of alleged newly discovered evidence that a sex-crazed prowler committed the murder July 4 of last year. Earlier the appeals court turned down another appeal, based on defense contentions of error in the original trial.

Sheppard shuffled out the jail door grasping a photograph of his son, seven-year-old Chip, who now is living with relatives. He also

Perle Mesta 'Wasn't Afraid' When Rioters Reached Room

Americans Lose Possessions in Viet Nam Rioting

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, July 20 (AP)—A rioting mob burst out of a peaceful anti-Communist student demonstration today and ransacked two Saigon hotels housing foreigners.

Mrs. Perle Mesta, former U. S. minister to Luxembourg who was ending a two-day visit to Saigon, was trapped in her suite but convinced a group of rioters she should not be molested. She was rescued after nearly two hours by U. S. embassy aides.

Twenty-eight Americans, including officers of the military aid mission to Indochina lost all their possessions.

Angier Biddle Duke, former U. S. ambassador to El Salvador, visiting Viet Nam as head of a private relief organization, returned to find his room torn apart, with his passport and private papers missing.

Two hundred hotel guests were left without shelter. Many had only the clothes they wore.

House Okays Minimum Wage Of $1 Per Hour

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP)—The House ignored President Eisenhower's wishes today and agreed with the Senate to boost the national minimum wage from 75 cents to $1 an hour.

Eisenhower had steadfastly held to his recommendation that the wage floor for workers in interstate commerce be raised only to 90 cents.

Overriding Republican protests, the House decided on $1 by a spanking 362-54 margin.

The vote represented Congress' final verdict except for a difference over timing of the increase. The House set the effective date at next March 1. Previously the Senate had fixed it at Jan. 1. That conflict will have to be settled in conference.

The White House has not indicated how Eisenhower would treat a raise beyond the 90 cents he had proposed. The final House vote today would be more than enough to override a veto, for which a two-thirds majority is necessary.

Fugitive Slayer Caught by Cop

NEW YORK, July 20 (AP)—A fugitive slayer last Nov. 28, bus penitentiary today, after a of Mellett.

"I JUST walked out," McDermott told New York police of his escape.

The fugitive made his way to New York, took the name "Steve Garish," and for the past five months had worked as an ambulance attendant at Jewish Memorial Hospital—a job that brought him face to face with police on virtually every emergency call he made.

Although he was on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals and his picture and his physical description was on file in every precinct station house in the city, McDermott lived a charmed life until Monday night.

Pogeweit, promoted to detective with a $215 a year raise for his vigilance, was assigned to McDermott's ambulance Monday night to take a mental patient to Bellevue hospital.

"I looked at McDermott several times and he looked familiar but I couldn't quite place his face," Pogeweit told reporters. "His face stuck in my mind."

"The next day I went to the squad room at the 34th precinct and looked at the flyers of wanted men. I came across McDermott's picture on an FBI flyer."

"I turned to Patrolman Murphy who was in the squad room and said, 'Jim, this look like an attendant on an ambulance I rode yesterday.'

"I went to the hospital with Murphy. McDermott was out on a call. We had to wait about 45 minutes for him to come back."

"We pretended to be busy looking up records so he wouldn't get suspicious. He was busy with some patient. We waited. When he rolled up his sleeve we saw a bulldog tattooed on his arm. That clinched it. We arrested him."

Three Cars Crash Near Airport Road

Two motorists tried simultaneously to pass a third motorist on Route 422, in Limerick township, at 1:15 o'clock this morning.

The result was a bizarre three-car collision.

Paul Benz, Norristown, tried to pass a car in front of him.

Homer Hadley, Pottstown RD 3, tried to pass Benz, as Benz tried to pass the car in front of him. The three crashed in oblique fashion.

The right front of Benz' car was damaged. The right side of Hadley's car was damaged. The first motorist, stopped momentarily, but then drove off from the accident scene, near airport road.

tracks, the car stalled.

A train can be seen approaching from the west—the Royersford station—for a distance of about 1500 feet.

Mrs. Trovinger, nervous and upset by the incident, said she didn't "want to say anything until she'd talked to her insurance men."

She did say however, that the car stalled, that she tried to start it, that she heard and saw the train coming, and that at the last minute, she decided to jump out of the car.

THE PLUCKY, attractive, blond mother of a three-year-old girl went right to work at the nearby Diamond Glass company plant after her car was towed away.

She took her stand at her production job inspecting bottles.

The plant superintendent, James Sharpe, and his assistants, didn't consider the incident significant enough to call the young woman away from her job to give the press an interview.

"She'll be on relief in an hour. See her then," Sharpe said.

HIS ASSISTANT said, "Bottles are coming at her at the rate of 20 a minute. The bottles have to go through."

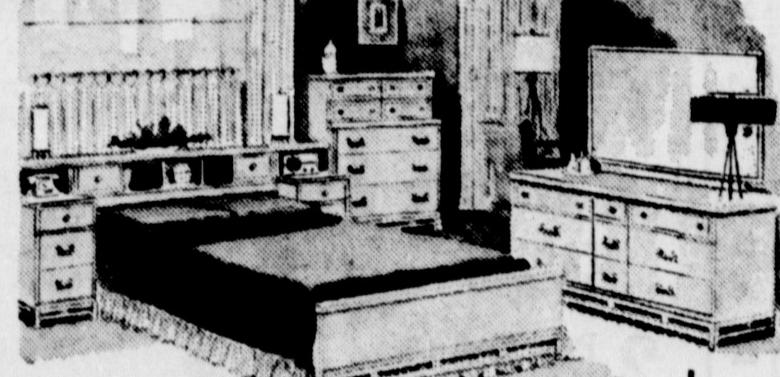

At 5:30 p.m., Mrs. Trovinger made only brief remarks about her close call.

Mrs. Trovinger has been driving for ten years, her husband said.

"And this was her first accident."

Both of the Trovingers have cars so their husband, who also works at the Diamond Glass plant, said he didn't know whether his wife's car had a history of stalling.

Tractor-Trailer Strikes Sedan, Fails to Stop

A lumbering tractor-and-trailer struck a sedan occupied by a woman and four small children at High and Hanover streets yesterday morning and failed to stop at the scene.

Victim of the hit-and-run accident was Nan Diffenderfer, Yarnall road, Pottstown RD 3, who reported to Desk Sgt. Paul I. Galloway that she was traveling south on North Hanover street, and stopped for the red traffic light.

When Mrs. Diffenderfer made a right turn on High street as the light changed, she was struck by the tractor which did not stop.

Mrs. Diffenderfer explained, "There was a lot of noise from the sound of the truck, and at first I thought the driver didn't know that he struck us. But when he rolled through the red light I wondered whether he wasn't trying to get away."

Neither Mrs. Diffenderfer or the children were injured.

The left fender, left rear fender and front bumper of the car were damaged. The truck left tell-tale red paint on the car.

Hospital Releases Victim of Crash

Claude B. Britton, 25, Barto, who narrowly escaped death July 6 in an accident near West Haven, Conn., is recovering at his home after being released from the hospital.

He suffered serious internal injuries in the accident in which Irvin B. Stitt, East Greenville, was killed.

The two men were standing between their parked trucks when a third truck smashed into the rear of one of the vehicles and knocked the two trucks together.

Britton, who is employed by the Sanitary Company of America, Linfield, is able to walk, but will not be able to go back to work for three months.

He returned from the Connecticut hospital Monday.

under the street.

BOROUGH MANAGER Horace B. Gulden said yesterday that because some equipment was broken on a similar job on West King street, the job probably won't be finished until Saturday or early next week.

He said that he had wanted the job finished before the heavy weekend traffic, but that now is impossible.

But the single filing of cars past the barricades on the North Charlotte street end of the block this week was not an unusual inconvenience.

Earlier this year the water department had two holes, five opened for several days at the Penn street intersection. That was in February.

IN APRIL 1954, two large holes were opened up by the water company, one at Penn street and one at North Hanover street.

The Bell Telephone company also opened some holes this past year near King and Penn streets.

In the early part of 1953, the Philadelphia Electric company had the whole north side of the street torn up for six weeks or more.

That was for a new gas main running the entire length of the block, and eight trenches were also dug across the street to connect homes on the south side.

1953 was also a good year of King street digging for the water department, for in May it opened an 8 by 12 excavation for servicing the line at the North Hanover street intersection.

And so, it seems that even if the present excavation stays uncovered longer than expected, it probably doesn't matter. Because another hole is sure to follow shortly.

Commission Receives Construction Bid

HARRISBURG, July 20 (AP)—The Pennsylvania turnpike commission today received an unofficial low bid of $496,565 for construction of sub-structure for the Clarks Summit bridge on the turnpike's northeastern extension.

The bid was submitted by W. P. Dickerson and Son, Incorporated, Hollidaysburg. A total of 13 bids were received by the commission for the project.

sites had been considered, both in Lower Pottsgrove township.

THEY WERE a plot directly west and on the other side of 863 owned by the Glendale Realty company and another tract directly east of the Leister property.

The Zern-Leister tract is 150 yards from some buildings belonging to Zern. The lower portion of the property is suitable for drainage, a representative of the Buchart Engineering company of Lancaster and York, told the school directors last week.

The 36.1 acres of the Leister part of the tract borders on land owned by Price Alderfer and wife.

A topographical survey of the site was made by the Walter Spotts company.

Architects will soon begin their survey of the site if it is approved by the State and purchased by the joint board.

Board President Herbert W. Stauffer Sr. has named a building committee to help the architects in plans for the proposed school building.

On the committee are Forrest Ginder, Lower Pottsgrove, chairman; Fadler and Leidy K. Gauger, West Pottsgrove.

Richard Pell, Spare Time Woodcraft Hobbyist Is One Woman's Answer to A Maiden's Prayer

By DOLLIE SMITH

(Mercury Staff Writer)

When the lady of the house makes the habitual requests for hubby to tighten the leg of a chair or repair the kitchen table she is apt to be met either with a dull silence or "wait until some weekend preferably in 1985."

The answer to a maiden's prayer and to all procrastinators is Richard Pell, 396 State street.

Mr. Pell's answer to the wifely question might very well be "throw it away—I'll make another."

Although woodworking is only a hobby in his spare time, he has developed his artistic talents to the point that could put professionals to shame.

An ordinary piece of wood plus the magic touch of the Pell fingers could become a stool, a cabinet or even a bed.

One of the outstanding works of art found in the Pell home is a sewing cabinet Mr. Pell made for his wife before their marriage.

Smiling he said, "I liked it so much, I married her to get it back."

The Pell kitchen also contains original products constructed by Mr. Pell for his wife.

Mrs. Pell's kitchen cabinet consists of a built in bake oven, a shelf on runners and a spice rack on the doors. "I usually start with a simple plan and then add everything my wife wants."

One of these simple plans, an ornamental shelf with hooks for a utility set is now owned by most of the neighbors.

Another novelty, one of Mr. Pell's first tries at making tables, is an end table with a built in light and a lucite top.

Three different colored bulbs are inserted into the creation giving it another purpose, that of a night light.

One of Mr. Pell's largest projects also an original plan, is a bed devised for his son, Ricky Jr. Made from oak, it is the size of a full length single bed, "with no wasted space."

Two storage drawers "filled with toys" extend to the floor again with his wife in mind. Mr. Pell added a foot space "so that she can make the bed without crawling all over it."

Added to his collection is an eye catching knick-knack shelf hanging on the living room wall. It is shrill-red in color, shaped as a half moon with an oval mirror attached.

Christmas is a busy occasion in the Pell household when Mr. Pell serves not only as Santa Clause in disguise, but also in the capacity of Santa's helpers.

At this time of the year Mr. Pell returns to his cellar workshop to construct toys of wood for his children.

The Pells have two children, Debbie, one year and Richard, five years.

Mr. Pell's affinity for woodcraft started when he lived in Mahanoy City, during his younger years. After his graduation from high school there he came to Pottstown to work for Stanley G. Flagg company incorporated.

It was here he met his wife, who was working as a waitress in a Pottstown luncheonette.

Soon afterwards, the couple purchased their home at 396 State street and Mr. Pell began his workshop which he describes as being "in a mild state of organized chaos."

During his first encounter with wood working he used only a few hand tools found around most homes.

Today his nine by fifteen foot workshop consists of a shaper, used to make molded edges; circular saw, jointer, drill press, wood lathe, 15 inch disc sander, belt sander, jig saw and added Mr. Pell, "a varied conglomeration of hand tools".

A chest with 24 miniature drawers containing bolts, screws, and nails is fastened to the wall of his workshop next to several shapely feminine "pin-ups."

Smiling Mr. Pell explained, "they're my inspiration."

His only training in this field was a partial course at night school during the year 1948 at Pottstown High school. He discontinued going to school because he was offered an apprenticeship in pattern making with the Stanley G. Flagg company incorporated.

"At one time," sighed Mr. Pell, "I wanted to be a commercial artist. I took the commercial course in High school for that reason."

More than a year ago he worked part time making cabinets for the late Carl Buchholz.

After seeing her husband disappear into the cellar for several years, Mrs. Pell says, "when he gets there, he lives there. He usually is making something we need. If he isn't in the cellar he is reading a book so it doesn't make much difference."

But like all men, Mr. Pell has two unfinished peacock silhouettes, two unfinished corner cupboards and "the fence that never got up."

NOTION COUNTER—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pell, 396 State street, are pictured in their home as they examine a sewing cabinet which Mrs. Pell describes as "a department store notion counter."

Mr. Pell, a woodcraft hobbyist, made this cabinet for Mrs. Pell prior to their marriage. The cabinet consists of eight semi-circular glass front moveable drawers; three full length drawers, seven open bins and a darning bin in the center. The open bins slide out as do the larger drawers. On the doors are eight spool racks with five spools to a rack and two scroll cut, ornamental pattern holders. Also on both doors are two "catch all" shelves. A space for three pairs of scissors is reserved on the door at the right.

C. E. Roberts, 91, Surprised at Party By AME Congregation

For 90 years Charles E. Roberts of 311 North Franklin street has been observing birthdays.

Sunday, to make his 91st birthday a memorable occasion, members of Bethel AME church gathered at his home to pay homage to Mr. Roberts, who succinctly states his recipe for living in three words: "Be a Christian."

With Beulah Birkhead as chairman, members of the congregation surprised the nonagenarian with a two-tier yellow and green birthday cake inscribed with the traditional "Happy Birthday," and embellished with the numerals "91."

Ice cream and beverages were served to guests, and birthday greetings extended to the Rev. Enos M. Martin, pastor of the church, and Dorothy Lee Whitfield, who observed their birthdays on Sunday.

The party took place on the lawn of the North Franklin street home, where Mr. Roberts lives "alone very well, thank you."

Guests present were: Mrs. Minnie Sutton, Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mrs. Gordon Beasley, Mrs. Millie Beasley, Horace Blandy, Phyllis Green, Stanley Green, Charles Birkhead, James Robertson, John Birkhead, John Johnson, Connie Whitfield. A gift also was received from Mrs. Daniel James.

Sumptuous first course: red caviar served with small thin squares of pumpernickel bread and cream cheese whipped until fluffy with a little heavy cream. Have a pepper grinder handy, too.

She needs ideas and advice in cooking and child care and she lacks knowledge of her strengths and weaknesses.

These facts were uncovered in the Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow the past Spring. Senior girls of North Coventry and Pottstown Senior High schools took part in the competition. Questionnaires were answered by 180,000 Senior High school girls during the contest.

It's Time for Summer Blackberries

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Blackberries at their peak! Eat the luscious purple fruit "as is" with cream. Crush them with sugar and serve over vanilla ice cream.

Lay them between layers of featherly white cake and top with whipped cream.

Put them in a gelatin dessert for interesting texture.

Try our old-fashioned delight—Blackberry Cobbler; you'll have a rich layer of the sweet berries with quick-cooking tapioca added to keep juices in their place, a delicious biscuit topping.

BLACKBERRY COBBLER

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons quick-cooked tapioca, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 4 cups blackberries, 1 cup water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 cup biscuit mix, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/3 cup light cream, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon.

Method: Mix tapioca, 1 cup sugar, salt, 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon, blackberries and water in a saucepan. Cook and stir over moderate heat until mixture comes to a boil.

Remove from heat; add lemon juice and butter. Pour into a baking dish (12 by 7 inches) and keep warm. Mix biscuit mix with 1 tablespoon sugar.

Add cream and stir until soft dough is formed. Turn onto a lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth and knead 10 times. Pat lightly to about 1/4-inch thickness.

Cut out eight 2-inch biscuits. Place biscuits on top of blackberry mixture. Then mix 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon and sprinkle over biscuits.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until biscuits are baked through. Serve warm with cream. Makes 8 servings.

Note: 1/4 cup milk and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted) may be substituted for the light cream in making the biscuit topping.

OFF THE SHOULDER

When your oven is on, you might try to a shoulder lamb chop dish that is baked. First brown the chops in a little fat in a skillet. Then put them in a baking dish and surround with canned tomatoes, diced onion, thin strips of carrot. Season with salt, pepper and basil. If you like, you may also add some very thinly sliced rounds of lemon. Cover and bake in a moderate oven for about an hour or until the chops are tender. If the sauce has too much fat, remove some of it; if it is thinner than you like, cook it down in a small saucepan on top of the range.

OLD-FASHIONED BLACKBERRY COBBLER—Make it with a layer of sweet fruit and crusty biscuits.

HOT DOG!

Snacktime for the crowd: heat tiny frankfurters in simmering (not boiling) water or spit-roast them on your electric rotisserie or on the backyard grill. Serve with a dip of cream cheese whipped with a little milk or light cream and season with lemon juice and lots of grated onion and freshly-ground black pepper. Unusual and good! If commercially prepared sour cream is available in your neighborhood, you may substitute it for the whipped cream cheese.

To keep this paraphernalia clean and ready for instant use, store things in plastic bags.

Tie or seal the bags and, for extra protection, keep them sanitary with occasional soap-and-water washings.

TOM POHOLSKY
... 1st Win Over Giants

Cards' Poholsky Notches 1st Win Over Giants, 9-2

CLEVELAND, July 20 (UPI) — Eddie Yost's two-run homer plus a four-run, third-inning rally tonight gave the Washington Nationals a 6-4 victory over Cleveland's Indians.

It was Washington's fifth victory in a row and second in a three-game series which ends tomorrow. The Nationals now stand 7-6 over the Indians for the season.

Both starting pitchers were chased. Cleveland's Early Wynn went out of the game after 2 2-3 innings in which he gave up 6 runs and 7 hits in his 3rd attempt to win his 12th victory. Washington's Chuck Stobbs left in the fourth after he had given up four hits and three Cleveland runs had scored.

Reliever Pedro Ramos got credit for the victory.

Al Rosen and Larry Doby accounted for the first two Tribe runs in the second on homers. Rosen led off with his 14th and Doby, next up, hit his 16th.

Yost's homer, his third, came in the second inning with Roy Sievers on second by way of a single and a wild throw.

In the big Washington third, Johnny Groth got on first when Wynn covering, dropped Bob Avila's throw. A double by Mickey Vernon and a single by Carlos Paula scored Groth. Gene Wooding fumbled Paula's hit, enabling Vernon to score. Then Wynn walked Sievers and Joe Valdivielso tripped in two more runs.

A two-run Cleveland rally in the fourth started with Al Smith's single. Doby got to first on a fielder's choice. Ferris Fain singled in Smith. An intentional pass to pinch hitter Dale Mitchell filled the bases, and Vic Wertz pounded out a long fly which enabled Doby to score.

Despite his generosity with base hits, Poholsky had a shutout going into the seventh. Then Wes Westrum and Bobby Hofman hit successive home runs to account for the lone Giant runs.

Poholsky helped his cause with three singles, driving in a run and scoring another as he evened his season's record at 4-4.

Stephenson and Ken Boyer, freshman third baseman, also collected three hits apiece as only Rip Repulski and catcher Nelson Burbrink failed to join the hit parade.

THE OLD HOME TOWN by STANLEYTRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

THERE'S A TOUGH supervisor with a voice like a foghorn men thoroughly cowed. A couple of softies from the East are particularly scared of him.

One morning a minor earthquake shook the plant. While the startled workers were discussing the tremor, the super sneaked up behind them and roared, "Back to work, you varmints, or I'll do it again!"

Thirty years ago, recalls Ed Wynn, he introduced a joke that audiences have been laughing at ever since. He said the best way to start a fire was to rub two Boy Scouts together. "In campaign years," chuckles Wynn, "I introduce a startling innovation. I rub a Democrat and a Republican together."

Four-year-old lad had stayed too long on the beach, and was brought home with a sizzler of a sunburn. In due course it reached the peeling stage. The torrid tyke was observed studying himself intently in the mirror and muttering, "Only four—and wearing out already!"

FIRE HALL NEARS COMPLETION—Exterior work on new North Coventry fire hall is almost completed, and cement floors are being laid in the social rooms (left) this week. Firemen hope to conduct their first meeting in the brick-and-cement-block building on Route 83 early in September.

Work Nears Completion on Fire Hall For 450-Member Unit in North CoventryCourt Appoints 3 Administrators

The Montgomery County Orphans Court today appointed administrators for the estates of three Pottstown area persons who died without wills.

An administrator was appointed for the estate of Emma G. Krause valued at $5000. Mrs. Krause, who died June 10, formerly lived at 1019 South street. She is survived by a daughter, Opal, and two sons, Percy and Clifford.

The estate of Linford G. Moyer, formerly of Souderton who died June 27, is valued at $700. Moyer is survived by his widow, Pearl M., who lives at 39 Diamond street, Souderton, a son, and two daughters.

The last estate involved in the appointments was that of Ralph A. Stauffer, Upper Pottsgrove, who died Nov. 23. The estate is valued at $3000. Stauffer is survived by his widow, Esther H., two sons and two daughters.

KUALA LUMPAR, Malaya, July 20 (UPI)—The government of the federated Malay states said today a commonwealth brigade of troops will be formed in Malaya—the commonwealth's first contribution to SEATO.

The brigade will be made up of a battalion of Australian troops due in September and two other battalions now in Malaya. Its first task will be to aid in the war against Communist terrorists in Malaya. This has been given top priority by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. The unit, SEATO's first reserve troops, can be moved out of Malaya if the need arises.

Interior work is underway this week on the new North Coventry Fire company hall on Route 83 near Ramble inn.

Cement floors are being poured in the social room of the brick-and-cement-block building.

The modern one-story hall already is under roof, and the firemen expect to conduct their Sept. 6 meeting there.

"Plumbing work underground and under the new floor is completed," a spokesman said, "and as soon as the floor is laid the heating system will be put in."

THE STEEL roof of the building is being "built up" with tar paper and asphalt, he added. This until the new hall is complete.
